Battery Charging

• To charge the phone, connect the phone’s power supply to the phone’s mini-USB port and plug into a wall outlet.
• New batteries are not fully charged
• Battery life depends on the network, signal strength, temperature, features, and accessories.

The phone will show Charge Complete when finished

The phone can charge via a mini USB cable from the phone to the computer USB port. However, charge times vary for each computer manufacture. Please contact the computer manufacture for the USB charge rate.

NOTE: If battery has been completely drained, it cannot charge via the USB cable plugged into the computer.

Memory Card

To Install Memory Card

• Open memory slot cover. Place finger nail on bottom ridge of infrared port and lift rubber cover from the memory slot.
• Insert memory card into exposed memory slot.
• Place memory card cover back in place and push to close.

NOTE: If you install the memory card when the phone is turned on, you might have to turn the phone off and on again before you try to use the card. Do not remove the memory card while the phone is using or writing files on it.

Synchronization
Two main ways to synchronize the Q phone. It can by synchronized Over the Air (OTA), or via a PC with a cable connection.

Synchronization the phone via OTA
NOTE: You can synchronize your Motorola Q with your company’s Microsoft Exchange Server. Contact your system administrator for the required e-mail set-up information, or see the Motorola Q Support site. www.motorola.com/support/Q/
Once you have verified the correct settings with the IT Department. You can Synchronize the phone either Over the Air (OTA) or with a cable connection.

• Press Start > ActiveSync® > Sync

NOTE: If you are out of network coverage, and the Moto Q tries to synchronize three times according to the schedule it is on, and it can not find a network, the synchronization settings automatically will revert to manual synchronization.
Synchronization

To set the synchronization schedule back to the desired frequency, you need to change this under ‘Schedule’ in ActiveSync.

For additional information on troubleshooting for Activesync, please go to www.motorola.com/support/q

Synch with a Computer

Installing and Setting up ActiveSync®

To synchronize information on the phone with a PC, you must install Microsoft ActiveSync® 4.1 or above software on the computer.

• If you do not have a CD-ROM, download the latest ActiveSync® software from the Microsoft Window Mobile website: http://microsoft.com/windowsmobile

1. Install ActiveSync® on the PC

2. After setup is complete, connect the phone to the PC. The Synch Setup Wizard automatically starts.

3. Follow the on screen instruction to complete the wizard.

• When finished, ActiveSync® starts to synchronize automatically with the phone. Once synchronization completes, disconnect the phone from the computer.

Synchronization the phone and PC via a cable connection

• Once ActiveSync® is installed on the PC, connect the phone to the computer and sync.

• Turn the phone on

• Connect the phone to the PC using a USB cable

• Open the ActiveSync® icon on the PC

OTA Synchronization Troubleshooting

If you are not receiving e-mails, you will need to verify e-mail set-up, wireless network, and/or e-mail platform settings. See the Motorola Q support site for more information.
